Hi,

I am a Python Developer specializing in web scraping, data extraction, and automation. I have built 50+ scraping solutions across financial platforms, e-commerce, real estate, and more — delivering clean, structured datasets in CSV and JSON format.

I bring a unique edge: 4 years of hands-on equity market experience, during which I analyzed 2,000+ companies using financial data. This means I don't just extract data — I understand its value and deliver it in a way that's ready for analysis.

I work with Selenium, BeautifulSoup, and Pandas to build reliable, scalable data pipelines tailored to your specific needs.

I'd love to discuss how I can help with your data requirements.

Looking forward to hearing from you.
